

Animal ATTRACTION

Search this Blog

« ATTRACTIVE BRUNFELSIA PROVES DEADLY TO DOGS | Main | Pets left behind after foreclosures »

Saving the sight of service dogs

6:12 AM Thu, Apr 17, 2008 | Permalink

Stacy Fox

E-mail

The American College of Veterinary Ophthalmologists and Pet Health Systems are launching the ACVO National Service Dog Eye Exam event the week of May 12.

April 2008

S	M	T	W	T	F	S
			1	2	3	4
					5
6	7	8	9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16	17	18	19
20	21	22	23	24	25	26
27	28	29	30

> Previous entries

- Categories
- Found Pets/Pets needing a home
 - Lost Pets
 - animals

- More KHOU Blogs
- Weird World
 - Animal Attraction
 - Sports
 - Win One for the Giffer
 - Teen Talk
 - Trail Mix

Advertisement

Pet News
Keep up with the latest in Pet News!

- Norman Knows
- Traffic
- Wedding Belles
- For Men Only
- News Cruise
- News Cruise

This event, whose primary sponsor is Merial, will provide free eye examinations and preventive health reports for thousands of service dogs.

More than 140 board-certified veterinary ophthalmologists have committed themselves to working with primary care veterinarians across the country and in parts of Canada to screen guide dogs, handicap-assistance dogs, detection dogs, and search-and-rescue dogs that are certified through a formal training program or organization.

The event will also serve to publicly promote the relationship between primary care veterinarians and veterinary specialists, strengthening the cross-referral process between these providers.

The ACVO is calling on primary care veterinarians to invite their clients who work with or own service dogs to register for the ACVO National Service Dog Eye Exam. Clients must register where they will complete a form and locate a participating ophthalmologist to contact for an appointment. Merial and the ACVO will contact the registered pet owner's primary care veterinarian in advance to explain the program.

After the free ophthalmology examination, the owner will be referred back to their primary care veterinarian, who will use materials provided by PHS to collect a blood sample during the dog's next regular appointment and submit it for a free lifestyle assessment, biochemical profile, and CBC.

The ACVO decided to offer this program following the success of a local event hosted by a Memphis veterinary ophthalmologist, Dr. Bill Miller, who examined 87 service dogs. He said, "These dogs need and deserve superlative care. While most dogs examined that fine December day left happily with no detectable abnormalities, several dogs were treated, and one very special service dog named Quest, a (guide) dog owned by blind veteran Ron McKenney, solidified my commitment to this cause. In May, thousands of dogs will be screened. The potential for helping and healing is staggering."

An ocular tumor was diagnosed in Quest. Dr. Miller and Dr. Kathy Mitchener, a veterinary oncologist, are partnering to try and save Quest's sight. McKenney said, "If the ACVO Eye Exam Event can help my dog and give him a chance at beating this disease before it gets too advanced, just think what it can do for the hundreds, if not thousands of service dogs that will be able to participate in the nationwide event."

Click here, for more information.

Photo of Ron and Quest courtesy: ACVO

Pet Pictures

View viewer pictures of their pets, and send in your own!

Shelters & Organizations

Are you looking to adopt a pet? Click here for a list of shelters and organizations that can help you find the perfect one.

1 Comments

Melody said:

This is a wonderful thing to do! As the proud "Mama" of a deaf, vision impaired dog, I know how important it is to have their eyes checked. Every vet visit, my vet checks her eyes to see how healthy they are and how much her vision has deteriorated. I'm SO glad that this service is being provided. It's so important, especially for service dogs! Keep it going!!!!!!

April 17, 2008 8:52 AM

Leave a comment

Name:

Email:

URL:

Remember personal info?

Captcha:

Type the characters you see in the picture above.

Home | Advertise with Us | About Us | Media Kit | Careers | Site Map | Contact Us
Help | Terms of Service | Privacy | Special Offers

© KHOU-TV, Inc. All Rights Reserved.