10,000 SERVICE DOGS TO RECEIVE THE GIFT OF PRESERVED SIGHT

United States of America, May 12, 2008 – The American College of Veterinary Ophthalmologists® (ACVO®) and Pet Health Systems (PHS) are launching ACVO® National Service Dog Eye Exam event the week of May 12th. This unprecedented event will provide free sight-saving eye exams and prevent health reports to 5,000-10,000 Service Dogs. Over 140 board certified veterinary ophthalmologists and 1,300 general veterinarians across the US will work together these services at no cost to Service Dog groups including: guide dogs, handicapped assistance dogs, detection dogs and search and rescue dogs. With this event, ACVO PHS hope to give back to these animals who selflessly serve the public for no compensation. They will accomplish this goal while donating nearly One Million dollars in services to 5,000-10,000 Service Dogs anticipated to participate.

An ACVO® Diplomate recently hosted a local 'test' event in Memphis, TN and examined Service Dogs. The local event was so successful that ACVO decided to offer this program on a national scale. One seeing-eye dog, "Quest", was diagnosed with a possible sight-threatening tumor, which would be devastating to both him and his owner, Mr. Ron McKenney. We are hopeful that through the partnership of a veterinary oncologist and veterinary ophthalmologist Quest may be able to retain his sight. Mr. McKenney stated: "If the ACVO® Eye Exam Event can help my dog, and give him a chance at beating disease before it gets too advanced, just think what it can do for the hundreds, if not thousands of service dogs that will be able to participate in the nationwide event. I imagine living without my best friend, Quest. I depend on him for everything, but most important, I love him. I don't want to lose him. He's my life. I thank Dr. Bill Miller for the Eye Exam Event, Dr. Chuck Halford, my primary care vet, and Pet Health Systems for all that's been done to help my beloved Quest."

Mr. Ron McKenney, Service Dog owner, Quest

Quest was one of many dogs who benefited from the local event, hopefully one of them to benefit from the upcoming national program. If you would like to view a heart-felt video describing the "Quest story" please visit: <http://www.acvoeyeexam.org/press/QuestStory08.pdf>. (See video link describing program and local coverage of TN 'test' event: http://www.acvo.org/diplomates/ExamDay/Eye\_Exam\_Day.wmv).

Never before has an event been held that benefits 5,000-10,000 Service Dogs and their work. Participating Board Certified Diplomates of the ACVO will provide a free eye exam to Service Dog groups including: guide dogs, handicapped assistance dogs, detection dogs, and search and rescue dogs. Dogs must be 'working dogs' which were certified through a formal training program or organization to qualify. Many of our members generously provide similar services to their Service Dog clients throughout the year. The purpose of this event is to make a large impact to help preserve the sight of these animal partners depend upon them.

In addition to the eye exam, participants will receive a Pet Wellness Report™ (pre-visit health diagnosis) and blood panel through their primary care veterinarian (no cost to pet owners), sponsored by Pet Health Systems. The system is an internet site which enables pet owners to register and agree to receive information regarding their pet's health. Once a pet owner has registered they receive updates on their pet's health (kind of repetitive). Within these updates are veterinarian recommended products and services to address individual pet's wellness needs. (Daily News article on this system and how it helps Service Dogs in the local event in TN: <http://www.acvoeyeexam.org/press/PHSDailyNews1008.pdf>)

The ACVO® is an approved veterinary specialty organization of the American Board of Veterinary Specialties, and is recognized by the American Veterinary Medical Association. Its mission is "to advance the quality of veterinary medicine through certification of veterinarians who demonstrate excellence as specialists in veterinary ophthalmology. To become board certified a candidate must complete their DVM program, a one year internship, a residency and pass a series of credentials and examinations.

The ACVO® National Service Dog Eye Exam Day is a ground-breaking event that will help preserve the eye-sight of thousands of Service Dogs across America. The following organizations are supporting this effort: American Animal Hospital Association, American Veterinary Medical Association, state Veterinary Medical Associations (USA and Canada), American Society of Veterinary Medical Association Executives, Veterinary Hospital Association, Veterinary Ophthalmic Technicians Society, Guide Dogs for the Blind, Eyes for the Blind, North American Police Dog Association, National Narcotic Detection Association, Patriot Paws Service Dogs, and Service Dogs of America. More organizations support is pending. The public may learn more or register to participate by visiting www.ACVOeyeexam.org.
