National service dog eye exams

I received a really nice e-mail from Dr. Rachel Keller here in Pittsburgh Re: free eye examinations for service dogs that are registered with national organizations.

My name is Rachel Keller and am a veterinary ophthalmologist in the Pittsburgh area. Myself and my colleague, Larry Bagley are participating in a national event to provide free screening eye exams for service dogs that are registered with national service organizations. Please see the link. Those interested in getting an eye exam can go online and register their pet, obtain a pin number, then call to schedule an appointment. Hope this information is useful for those that may frequent your website.

Also please check out their website at the Animal Eye Clinic of Pittsburgh these veterinarians are offering a fantastic service for our service partners, thank you very much Dr. Keller.
