ACVO National Service Dog Eye Exam Week - May 4-8, 2009

We are excited to announce that we will be participating in the ACVO/MERIAL National Service Exam Week this year - May 4-8, 2009!

Along with over 160 other ACVO® board-certified veterinary ophthalmologists, NorthStar VETS Ophthalmologist, Dr. Kristina Vygantas, will be offering free ophthalmic exams to registered service dogs as part of the American College of Veterinary Ophthalmologists' National Service Dog Exam Week.

In order to schedule an appointment, you will need to qualify and obtain a registration number for your dog(s) through the ACVO website. Click here to access their site. Registration is open until April 29, 2009. If you have completed the registration process, please contact our office and we will gladly help you with an exam. We look forward to hearing from you!
